The majority of ceive a large electoral vote, and, putting these opinions together, some buyers of stocks, braver than others, see every possible reason for buying at the present level of values. The strength in the market this week has developed the fact that the short interest in stocks sees danger ahead in its position. Conditions do not favor operations for the short account, and only some extraordinary event can bring on any material weakness in stock values. With but few exceptions there was an increase in dealings in stocks and bonds to-day, and the business was better distributed than in a considerable time, although and bonds to-day, and the business was better distributed than in a considerable time, although the principal business continued in the leading speculative favorites. Such Jocks as Jersey Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Denver and Rio Grande preferred, Canada Southern, Colorado, Fuel and Iron, and United States Cordage, which have recently been practically lifeless, exhibited a moderate degree of activity, and more activity than in several weeks was displayed by New-York Central, Missouri Pacific, Pacific Mall, United States Rubber, Kansas and Texas preferred, and Northern Pacific preferred.

The stock market was indifferent to an advance of 1 per cent in the Bank of England's minimum discount rate, and also unaffected by another break in the price of wheat in the local and Chicago markets. It is not expected that the Bank of England will be able to stop gold exports to this country, and the break in wheat does not take away any strength from the significance of the current cereal movement. Yesterday's and to-day's declines in wheat were fortunate occurrences, in view of the present condition of the money market, which is not favorable to extravagant speculation either in the produce or security markets. A check to wheat speculation will benefit the market, especially as it will bring in new European buyers and consequently increase the movement of gold this way. To-day's receipts of gold from abroad amounted to $1. $10,000, and about $483,000 was deposited at the Sub-Treasury in exchange for legal-tender notes. Shorts covered extensively in the noon trading in stocks and there was a sharp rally throughout the list, but subsequent profit-taking sales caused reactions from the best prices of the day. American Tobacco was up 1½ per cent and United States Rubber 2 per cent, elsewhere among the active list net gains being fractional. Shares of Southern roads were favorably affected on reports intimating a final and satisfactory settlement of the rate troubles in the South, and the Granger shares continued strong, ref
